

Who Provides What Web Designers Need?

Dear Web Font Providers | Smashing Magazine | Laura Franz | September 2013

Provider	Shows Fonts in Text	Shows Fonts Cross Browser	Provides Mock-up Fonts
Fontdeck	Sentences only	No	No
Fonts.com	Yes, limited sizes	Yes, sentences only	Yes, one day
Fontspring	Sentences only	No	Yes, $ (bundled discount)
Fontquirrel	Sentences only	No	Yes
Google Fonts	Yes, but clunky	No	Yes
Just Another Foundry	No	No	No
Myfonts	Sentences only	Yes, sentences only	Yes, $ (bundled discount)
Typekit	Yes	Yes, sentences only	Yes (in testing stage)
Typotheque	Yes	No	Yes, $ (bundled discount)
WebINK	Yes, via Fontdropper 1000	No	No
Webtype	Yes, but clunky	No	No
Typography.com	Yes, but “bandy”	No, but say they’ve fixed the cross browser problem	Yes, $ (bundled discount)
Provider	Shows Fonts in Text	Shows Fonts Cross Browser	Provides Mock-up Fonts